Ambitious software engineering student looking to pursue a career in Web development. I intend to start as either a backend or frontend Web developer, working towards full-stack Web development, and eventually becoming a software architect for enterprise-grade systems. Most of my current experience in Web development exists in backend development using C# and ASP.NET Core. Additionally, I have related experience working with SQL Server, MariaDB, and PostgreSQL for databases; raw SCSS, Bootstrap, Materialize, and Tailwind CSS for frontend styling; Razor, Blazor, and Angular for frontend frameworks; Docker and Jenkins for deployment; and Flutter for mobile app development.
